Post-game Quotes

Utah Assistant Coach Donny Daniels: "We knew pretty much what they were going to do. Our guys came out with a sense of urgency. They knew how important this game was. Since we've been here, no one has won the WAC without coming to the islands and beating Hawai'i, so we knew this game was important. We knew that without Whitlock and Sueing they were somewhat depleted, but sometimes that can turn against you. Luckily we had a good start and kind of kept going. "

"We knew Harris was going to take a lot of shots and we knew he was capable of putting up big numbers, so we focused on him and put a lot of pressure on him in the first half and that kind of took him out of it. Brandon Jessie did an excellent job on him tonight. When he was guarding Harris, I think he only scored maybe four at the most."

On coach Majerus' absence: "You know coach (Majerus) is a big part of this team. When he's not here, it's like we're just going through a system. We've had a system throughout the years and we pretty much stay true to that. We did that tonight and that worked for us. Believe it or not, coach Majerus was here more than people think."

University of Hawai'i Head Coach Riley Wallace: "It was one of those nights. We couldn't score our shooters couldn't shoot. We lost our heads early and they're a top ten team, we knew that. We didn't have the athletes on the floor that they had. We didn't even come close to exciting anything correctly on offense tonight. They took us out of the game early. Anthony (Harris) missed a couple of layups and a turnaround jumper to start the ball game. That's six points and you're sort of on a run. You get those points and the other guys might get started too, but I guess we're a slow starting team and then we try to turn it on. Well they were too good to turn it on against tonight."

"You gotta forget this one. That's hard to do obviously, but you just gotta throw this one out. Because BYU right down the line and they played (Utah) right down to the wire at Utah. They'll come in here mad as hornets because they lost to San Diego State tonight and they won't be able to practice tomorrow because of their religion."
